We command you to attach the goods or estate of Henry A Porter of Dublin, Cheshire, and Sawyer, of Cambridge, in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, merchants to the value of One Hundred Dollars, and summon said defendants (if they may be found in your precinct) to appear before our Justices of our Supreme Judicial Court next to be holden at Bangor, within and for our County of Penobscot, on the first Tuesday of October, and there and then in said Court answer unto Edmund Bradley, Paul Horton, and Benjamin Perry, of Bangor, copartners of Shipmakers and copartners in business under the style of Bradley, Horton & Co., in a plea of the case for that the said defendants at said Bangor on the first day of July A D 1855 and on divers days and times before and after that day, in consideration that the said plaintiffs at the request of the said defendants would purchase of one Joseph Stubbs of Thomaston in said County of Knox, and ship to the said defendants at Bangor aforesaid, a quantity of Ship Timber, Plank and Knees, the said defendants undertook and promised the said plaintiffs to pay them for the same on receipt of the bills of lading thereof, and the said plaintiffs aver that they did purchase of said Stubbs and ship to said defendants at Bangor aforesaid the timber, plank and knees aforesaid, and the bills of lading thereof were duly received by said defendants, yet the said defendants have not paid said sum or any part thereof, although often requested so to do, but the same remains wholly unpaid, to the damage of said plaintiffs as they say the sum of One Thousand Dollars, and have you then and there this writ with your doings therein. A Book Worth Reading!
Memoir of Amos Lawrence,
THIS DAY PUBLISHED,
EXTRACTS
FROM THE DIARY AND CORRESPONDENCE OF THE LATE
AMOS LAWRENCE,
WITH A BRIEF MEMORIAL OF HIS LIFE.
Edited by WILLIAM R. LAWRENCE, M. D.
With elegant Portrait of Amos Lawrence, engraving from a fine painting, and Autograph of Amos and Abbott Lawrence and a good Personal Index.
8 vo. Cloth $1 50.
They of the pioneers of a new commonwealth who became distinguished for the wisdom of their counsels, or the success of their enterprises, have rarely been surrounded by circumstances so peculiarly favorable for transmitting to posterity the record of their lives. The public will welcome the biography of Amos Lawrence, commencing business with only $200 given away in charities, during his lifetime more than $100,000.
It was a memorable day that witnessed the birth of the man and preacher, and the son of an inn who had diabetes, retired from business with a fortune of a million and a half, and died worth a million and a half. It is also remarkable that the greatest lexicographer of modern times, and the first in the department of Biography, should be an American, and that the subject of his first biography should be a native of Boston. The life of Amos Lawrence, as written by his son, William R. Lawrence, M. D., is a model of what such a work should be. It is simple, natural, and unaffected, and is full of interesting details, which will be read with pleasure by every person in America.

THE NEW LIQUOR LAW TO COME BACK FIFTEEN YEARS.—The Portland Reporter (organ of the ultra Liberals,) for the last week or two says, what are to be the demands of the liquor faction upon the incoming Legislature. It announced that "the general sense of our people (i. e the Liberal people,) is that the Maine Law should be absolutely repealed, and a clause inserted negativing the revival of any law on the subject, since the enactment of the Revised Statutes of 1840. * * * So that by repealing the last act, the act of 1840 would again become the law of the State. * * * That would be a healthy act."

In conformity with this demand of the Liberals, we are now given to understand, (the Portland Advertiser has it on reliable authority,) that Governor Wells has nearly completed a draft of a new liquor law—understood to contain all the principles of the old license law!

The law of 1840 provides that the Selectmen, Treasurer and Clerk of every town and the Mayor and Aldermen, Treasurer and Clerk of every city, may license as many persons, of good moral character, as they may deem necessary, "to be retailers of wine, brandy, rum or other strong liquors in said towns or city, and every person so licensed shall pay to the Treasurer for the use of the board granting the license, one dollar." The principal restrictions of the act are that liquors shall not be sold to Indians, or United States soldiers, or minors, and that no revelling or drunkenness shall be allowed on the premises,—the penalty annexed being ten dollars, and a liability to forfeit on the retailer's bond.

The act was merely an attempted regulation of the abuses of the traffic—and it is well known never did restrict, and was never expected to restrict in any appreciable degree, the amount of liquor sold. It was, in fact, entirely nugatory, so far as restriction went—everybody selling who desired to, either with or without a license—it being found impracticable to enforce the penalty against selling without license—and the penalty being, in fact, but ten dollars.

MYSTERIOUS.—The manner in Weaver's Letter keeps remaining in getting into Mayor Hayward's box is as mysterious as the absolute fate of the Fakir of Ava. The Whig and Mercury are at apparent issue on the question the latter affirming positively that "no letter in the hand writing of Philip Weaver has passed through the Post Office at all." If the Mercury is correct, then there is "monkery somewhere that will do."—Journal.

And if the Mercury is not correct, who then?

In regard to this matter, we have the most undoubted evidence that the letter above referred to did pass through the Post Office—not only the evidence of a gentleman of the highest character, whose word even the Mercury will not dare to impeach, and who himself took the letter from the Post Office—but we have the evidence of the Post Office stamp upon the letter itself.

The Mercury calls our former statement "careful one," and with a reckless persistency as mean and unworthy as insulting, affects to believe that we were quibbling, and that the Mayor, or some one in his confidence, has been guilty of the basest conduct in the matter. Cannot the editor believe in straightforward, honest truthfulness in anybody?—or is that a proper desire of obtaining notoriety at the expense of all candid, generous and fair dealing?

THE MERCURY'S CONSISTENCY.—In an article of volunteer advice to the City Council, touching the appointment of a new Marshal, which the Mercury published on Thursday last, and re-published by particular request on Friday, which we believe was "positively its last appearance," the editor said

"Will they be cautious in selecting a new Marshal, and get a discreet and faithful man? Will they, in the face of all this, put upon us some new man, who will add to and keep alive prejudices in our midst?

We earnest our City Council to be cautious.

What an admirable concern that the City Council should select a good man to succeed Mr Weaver! And yet, see how the Mercury of Monday receives the idea of selecting one of two or three whom the council himself admits to be good men

"We understand Dr Mills utterly declines to be the successor of Weaver. Senator Jonathan Thompson, the particular friends of Weaver, Hill & Keating propose A. K. Hallowell instead. They are seeking to avert the discharge of the assessor of public information, by uniting the two Democratic factions with a good man. Mr Hallowell declines to serve in that capacity for them."

Comment is unnecessary

Fifty cents an hour the "tide men" on our rivers have been asking for their services lately, and, yesterday, the weather being cold and rough, fifty cents an hour were paid, and cars and wages found for them. A large amount of lumber was disposed of yesterday.

Lumber has been pushed off to Frankfort and Hucksport, very rapidly for a few days past. Many vessels have been discharged of their cargoes, and great activity has been shown in loading them with lumber. There is still an insufficiency of vessels to take away freight, notwithstanding so much lumber has been "sent out," and although there are about a hundred vessels in port.

Cold weather has suddenly come upon us, but as yet very little ice has appeared in the river, and no anchor ice had shown itself up to last evening, but it was feared that with another cold night, it would show itself in floating masses this morning.

The supply of poultry in market yesterday was quite limited but prices were moderate, ranging from ten to twelve cents for turkeys, and chickens. There will doubtless be an ample supply AT and to-day and to-morrow for Thanksgiving purposes.

[For the Daily Whig and Courier.]

Messrs Editors—The article in the Bangor Journal of the 17th inst., in which I am charged with saying that "Mr. Hill put the defects and unconstitutional clauses into the Maine Law, in consequence of his disappointment in not being elected Speaker of the House," has no foundation in truth. Nor did I ever make such a remark concerning Hon. Noah Smith, as is there attributed to me. Yours, &c.,

EZEKIEL KNOWLTON

South Monticello, Nov. 19, 1855.

WISCONSIN.—The Milwaukie Sentinel of the 15th, has official returns from twelve counties and reported majorities from twenty-three more. In these, Bashford, Republican has a majority of 1044 over Bingham, Democrat, with only the extreme border counties of the State to hear from. The Sentinel adds:

They cannot give so large a majority as this for Bashford, and unless there are errors in some of the above reported results, the chances are in favor of Mr. Bashford's election. It is proper, however, to add that the friends of Gov. Barstow still claim his re-election.

The official returns of Milwaukie county show the largest vote ever cast, which is nearly accounted for where it is known that no less than 740 new voters, one eighth of the entire vote of the county, were made on election day and the day preceding.

The Atlas says "One distinguished friend "Semper" does not seem to have been on hand, or if so, to have been sadly remiss in enrolling "Americans to rule America." Such wholesale manufactures of voters as this, will do more to keep down the spirit of Know Nothingism, than reason or argument to prevent.

NEW YORK ELECTION. The aggregate vote in this State on the State ticket, including all the counties except one, and giving the full vote in all but two, is as follows:

American	141,993
Republican	131,303
Soft	88,100
Hard	57,237

Supposing the Softs to be all friendly to the Administration, which is not true, it leaves 336,563 opposed to the Administration to 88,100 in its favor, and shows a majority against Pierce Douglas & Co of only 242,463.

The Senate stands

Republicans	17
Americans	11
Softs	3
Hards	1

The Assembly will be constituted thus

Republicans	42
Americans	38
Democrats	48

FREDERICK DOUGLASS'S LECTURE, last evening, was attended by a good audience. We were able to be present only a short time, but from what we heard, have no doubt the lecture fully sustained the reputation of the speaker. Mr D eloquently vindicated the claims of the African race to a position in the family of man—a denial of which is made the excuse and defence of slavery.

GREAT BRITAIN AND THE UNITED STATES.—The Washington Union says there is nothing whatever in the diplomatic relations between Great Britain and the United States which need awaken a moment's speculation on this side of the water. The Central American question is a subject of earnest discussion and very serious difference on some points, but the difference is still a matter belonging to negotiation. The Union says that the reappearance of the British fleet on the West India station was probably caused by the alarm produced by the British Consul's mistake in relation to the barque Mary. The Union also gives a positive denial to the statement in the London Times, that Mr. Buchanan had expressed sympathy with the English Government.

A letter from Sebastopol says that the new French floating batteries are entirely built of iron and covered with a shell of the same metal, under which the chimney is lowered and concealed during an action. Trials have been made against this shell with 46 pounders, but they only produce a slight dent, the projectiles themselves rebounding far away. When shut the embrasures look like a house, besides in front, the behind. The four battery is armed with thirty guns of the heaviest calibre. The portholes are in their turns closed by lids, that open of themselves at the moment the gun is fired, and then shut instantly. A small orifice in the lid enables the gunner to take aim.

GOOD PLAYING.—A new Hunneman fire engine has received by Company 12, of Brooklyn, N Y., played a perpendicular stream through an inch and a half pipe and 200 feet of hose, one hundred and eighty-seven feet in height. The capacity of the machine is 8 inch cylinder and 16 inch stroke.

DISCOVERY FROM SPECULATIONS.—The Montreal Gazette cautions the public against counterfeit flour. It is said that some dealers buy barrels with the best brands, and then fill them up with flour of the worst description, much of which is adulterated.

DOWNEASTER HALL, Drono, is to be opened on Thanksgiving Evening, by a Ball, for which Streeter's Quadrille Band furnishes the music. The card of invitation shows an excellent list of managers, and we have no doubt that it will be a pleasant affair.

AN INCENTIVE BALLOT-BOX.—The Cincinnati Democrat says the identical ballot box out of which John Van Buren got his "7,000 majority for the Soft," in New York, and the editor says it holds just about a pint.

There is to be a Thanksgiving Ball at the Exchange House, Joel D. Prescott, Proprietor. An abundant list of managers is selected. The tickets are placed at $1.00.

HON. C. C. WASHBURN.—The Galena Advertiser says that this gentleman continues very low, but the physicians speak with confidence of his recovery. He has had no relapse.

MR THACKERAY receives $1000 for his lectures on the Four Georges, in New York, and the Mercantile Library, under whose auspices they have been delivered, will clear nearly twice that sum.

PLATFORM OF THE AMERICAN PARTY IN CONNECTICUT.—The following is the platform laid down at the recent quarterly meeting of the State Council of Connecticut. The resolutions it will be seen take strong free soil ground upon the slavery question—and it is exceedingly difficult to perceive how, upon such a platform there is to be any union with the southern Know Nothings in the National Council for the nomination of a Presidential candidate, which that Convention requires to be held sometime next summer.

1. The maintenance of the Union of these United States as the paramount political good, or, to use the language of Washington, "the primary object of patriotic desire." And hence the full recognition of the rights of the several States, as expressed and reserved in the Constitution; and a careful avoidance, by the General Government, of all interference with their rights by legislative or executive action.

2. Obedience to the Constitution of these United States, as the supreme law of the land, obligatory alike to all.

3. A revision and modification of the laws regulating immigration, and the settlement of immigrants. Offering to the honest immigrant who, from love of liberty or hatred of oppression, seeks an asylum in the United States, the protection of our flag and our laws. But unqualified opposition to the transmission to our shores of criminals and paupers.

4. A radical change of our Naturalization Laws.

5. The support for political stations—executive, legislative, judicial or diplomatic—of those only who do not hold civil allegiance, directly or indirectly, to any foreign power, whether civil or ecclesiastical, and who are Americans by birth, or by thorough education and training—thus fulfilling the motto, "AMERICA ONLY SHALL GOVERN AMERICA." The protection of all persons in the legal and proper exercise of their civil rights and privileges; the maintenance of the rights of every man to the full, unrestrained and peaceful enjoyment of his own religious opinions and worship.

6. The education of the youth of our country in schools provided by the State, which schools shall be common to all, without distinction of creed or party, and free from any influence of direction of a denominational or partisan character. And inasmuch as Christianity, by the constitutions of nearly all the States, and by the consent of the people of America is considered an element of our political system, and as the Holy Bible is at once the source of Christianity, and the depository and fountain of all civil and religious freedom, we oppose every attempt to exclude it from the schools thus established in the States.

7. We advocate Protection to American industry and genius, against the adverse policy of foreign nations, also, facilities to internal and external commerce, by the improvement of rivers and harbors.

8. The unconstitutional restoration of that time-honored prohibition known as the Missouri Compromise, which was destroyed in utter disregard of the people, will a wrong which no lapse of time can palliate, and no plea for its continuance can justify. And that we will use all constitutional means to maintain the positive guarantee of that compact, until the object for which it was enacted has been consummated by the admission of Kansas and Nebraska as Free States.

9. That Connecticut will never consent to the extension of Slavery over the common domain of the United States; but on the contrary believing that free institutions which an experience almost coeval with the life of the Republic, has proved to be good for her, are, and will be good for all future commonwealths, she will strive to the last of her ability, to exclude the pollution of human bondage from the national Territories.

10. That it is the duty of the General Government to protect, even by armed intervention, if necessary, the people of the territories, in the exercises of the right of suffrage, and that the National Administration which neglects to perform this duty is no longer entitled to the confidence and the best interests of the Union.

11. The union of these States should be made perpetual by a faithful adherence to the principles embodied in the Declaration of Independence, and confirmed by the Constitution.

12. All the principles of this Order to be henceforth, everywhere openly avowed, each member shall be at liberty to make known the existence of the Order, and the fact that he himself is a member.

CURIOUS ACCUSATION.—The London Times of November 1st, charges that when the war in the East first broke out the American Minister in London testified to the British Government "the cordial sympathy of the Cabinet of Washington and the nation over which it presides," —and, further

He expressed an apprehension as to the duration of our alliance with France, and our ability alone, and unaided to resist the overwhelming might of Russia. He then declared his desire to be under no apprehension on that account, for the United States were willing to make our quarrel their own and aid us with thousands of stout hearts and brawny arms, as ready to pluck down the despotism of the East, as to subdue the wilderness and level the giant forests of the West.

This statement, put forth with semi-official pomp, demands an explanation from Mr Buchanan as well as from the Cabinet at Washington. The Times goes on to intimate that this expression of sympathy encouraged England to venture, to their urgent need of peace, upon the war, under the necessity of reducing their establishments to a more economical standard.

CONSUMPTION IN MASSACHUSETTS.

The returns of deaths, prepared by the Secretary of State for 1855, shows an average of twelve deaths a day from consumption alone. Can nothing be done to stay the fearful mortality? If the allegations of those who keep at the head of the list are entitled to credence, they may be relieved, others in a proportion of one and a half to one.

Thousands who had tried all other remedies have found in DR. BUTTS' BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY a sure and speedy cure for all diseases of the throat, lungs and chest. This can be substantiated by a mass of reliable evidence.

Each bottle is always signed I. BUTTS.

The Real.

"John Honeywell," says the Ed'or of Knickerbocker, "who never does anything all on the square, carried out his principles' to the letter, in the usual jokes lines, entitled 'The Real,' The following is a satire on it.

I met him in the cars,
Where resignedly he sat,
His hair was full of dust,
And on with his cravat.
He was furthermore embellished
By a ticket in his hat.

The conductor touched his arm,
And awoke him from a nap,
When he gave the fee-ing fists
An admonitory slap,
And his ticket to the man
In the yellow lettered cap.

So, launching into talk,
We rattled on our way,
With allusions to the crops
That along the meadows lay,
Whereupon his eyes were lit
By a speculative ray.

The heads of many men,
Were bobbing as in sleep,
And many babies lulled
Their voices up to weep,
While the cool dust danced daintily
On tresses in a heap.

All the while the swaying cars
Kept rumbling o'er the rails,
And the frequent whistle screamed
Shrieks of anguish to the gales,
And the cinders pattered down
On the grimy floor in hails.

When suddenly a jar,
And a thrice repeated boom
Made the people in alarm
From their seats awaken up.
For they deemed the sound to be
The inevitable crump.

A splintering crash below,
A doom foreboding twitch,
As the tender gave a lurch
Beyond the flying switch,
And a mangled mass of men
Lay writhing in the ditch.

With a palpitating heart
My friend essayed to rise,
There were bruises on his limbs
And stars before his eyes
And his face was of the hue
Of the dolphin when it dies.

I was very well content
In escaping with my life,
But my outraged friend
Commenced a legal strife;
Being thirdcounts incited
By his lawyer and his wife.

And he wastes me the result,
In his quiet way, as follows
That his case came up before
A bench of legal scholars,
Who awarded him his claim
Of $1,600!

New Hampshire—Acceptance of the Democratic Nomination.

Concord, Nov. 20.

Mr. Wells, Democratic candidate for Governor, accepts the nomination, and says if elected he will endeavor, by all constitutional ways, to restrain bigotry, intolerance, persecution, and fanaticism, within harmless limits. Every law which will ensure the maintenance of order, the promotion of temperance, the free enjoyment of religious and political opinions, the furtherance of education, the security of personal rights, the stability and independence of the Judiciary, and the enforcement of constitutional obligations, I will sanction and approve. But such laws as will tend to promote disorder, to abridge the freedom of opinion, to limit or embarrass the enjoyment of political privileges, to violate personal rights, to impose Proscription on one class of citizens, on account of their birthplace, which are not imposed upon other classes, to increase intemperance, under the pretence of reform, or to render the Judiciary of that State dependent upon the will of its parties, I will oppose. I have examined the Resolutions adopted by the Convention, and shall give them my hearty support.

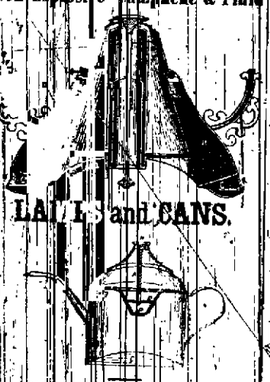
DR. GUINOU'S IMPROVED Non-Explosive Camphene & Fluid



LAMPS and CANS.

HAVING purchased the Patent right for the State of Maine for the above Lamps, I am now prepared to offer them to purchasers in every part of the State, and to the use of Parlors, Churches, Stores, Factories, Vessels, Steamboats and Railroads.

These Lamps are constructed on scientific and philosophical principles, and are the only sure preventation against explosions from Camphene and Burning Fluid, being made of the most durable material, not subject to accident from breakage or corrosion—will burn freely without smoke, giving a pleasant and steady light (the nearest to gas ever produced).

The above Lamps have proved, after three years trial, to be the best Lamps in use, giving universal satisfaction, and trying perfectly safe.

These Lamps will be sold wholesale or retail as low as the ordinary Camphene and Fluid Lamps, by S. RICKER, 16 Main Street, Bangor. Made to order in Lamps, Chairs, Glass, and Crockery Ware.

By order of the Postmaster General, the United States Mail Steamers will hereafter be despatched from their dock at the foot of Canal street, North river, punctually at 12 o'clock, noon, on the 5th and 20th of each month.

Passengers are landed at the Railroad Depot, Aspinwall, and conveyed across to the Pacific Steamers without any extra expense. Arrangements have now been completed so that the regular U. S. Pacific Mail Steamer will leave Panama for San Francisco immediately on the arrival of the Atlantic Mail and passengers, thus adding a fourth to the Mail Line's sure and short passages, with no detention on the Isthmus.

Each Mail Steamer is armed by one of the Company's officers, and a surgeon is appointed by the Company at Panama, and Tickets through to San Francisco obtained of the only authorized Agent for the Mail Steamships, at the Company's Office, 177 Broad street, Boston.
